THE NEW INSURANCE LAW.

At the last session of the Legislature a bill was passed allowing insurance companies to do business in this State, without depositing a bond of $200,000 with the State Controller. After many years the bond required by the State law, has enabled a few wealthy companies to enjoy a monopoly of the insurance business. Under the new law a license of $200 per annum is all that is required.

Already several San Francisco companies have paid their license and sent agents to this State preparatory to establishing business here. It was held under the old law that the requiring of so large a bond would result in only the heaviest companies being represented. Experience has shown that the amount of capital employed in the insurance business, is not always a guarantee of its business stability as is remembered in the case of the rotten Continental, whose President is now enjoying himself in Belgium, while the duped stockholders are swearing in the United States. The new law will cause a large number of companies to establish agencies here and there is no doubt that many of these companies will be a rattle trap, cheap John affairs, which the public will do well to let alone. A company ought to contain the names of responsible persons, be established on a tried system and for a reasonable length of time, before it can expect the confidence of the public.

THE DRUMMER LICENSE.

The decision of the Supreme Court of the United States relative to the drummer license law is a great victory for the Commercial Travelers' Association. The ruling is that a State cannot tax commercial travelers or compel them to pay a license. This throws open the whole field to the drummer and he can go where he listeth from now to eternity. On the whole, we think that the public will be benefited by the change. The tax on drummers went into the State Treasury, and of course the drummer made it up by charging his customers a little higher, so that instead of being a tax on the non-resident it was an additional tax on the already over-taxed home purchaser, and the public gained nothing by it. The home merchant who gave his orders to the drummer was charged higher under the license system, and the home producer made up the difference. The last law ruling will have the effect of liberating a vast army of drummers on the public, the competition will be sharper than ever, and the purchaser will get the benefit.

BEECHER'S FUNERAL.

Beecher showed his broad mind when he left instructions that his death should not be turned into mourning. As his body lay in the house where he had reared his family, the place was brilliantly lighted, and his children will attend his funeral dressed as for a holiday. There will, at Beecher's funeral, be none of the sable trappings of woe that ignorance, bigotry and slave ridden custom has imposed upon the world. It was a courageous act when his hand, ready to become cold in death, brushed aside the traditional black crape with which death is made more hideous than it naturally is. The time will come when the advancing civilization of the world will do away with the miserable tom foolery which has become a part and parcel of funerals, and the relics of ancient and savage barbarism will become things of tradition only.

The County Commissioners, at their regular meeting on Monday, allowed claims for bounty on scalps of noxious animals aggregating $1,235 30; all other claims $3,623 25; total $4,858 55, all of which is payable in coin, on presentation of warrants to the County Treasurer. —Elko Independent.
